

Background

Much has been heard about SRI, and many groups and farmers have embarked on the journey of sustainability through SRI. Nonetheless, the economic potential of SRI and its capacity to enhance the quality of life of farmers and consumers deserves specific attention.

This conference will bring forth expert views and experiences of professionals, practitioners or farmers to share and exchange information on the contribution of SRI in innovating shared market value in rice production and trade.

Objectives

The overall objective of this Conference is to promote innovations, either technological, social or business that can lead to improved farmers' livelihoods and quality of life for farmers and consumers through value creation of SRI.

The specific objectives of this Conference are:

- To explore various technological, social and business innovations that have been derived or created from SRI
- To raise awareness on the market potential of SRI and products/services derived from SRI
- To promote regional networking of relevant stakeholders as means of expanding demand for sustainable SRI rice trade
- To highlight and document key recommendations for SRI integration in sustainable development policies nationally, regionally and internationally.

About SRI-Mas

We are a network of individuals and organisations, farmers, producers, consumers, professionals, agriculturalists, researchers and scientists, men and women, supporting the common cause of sustainable food production through natural farming practices that support community development and enhance the well being of all people in Malaysia.
